ALBERTA STATE TODAY

GREAT POMP WILL ATTEND CEREMONIAL

Busy Session Is Expected With War Waging In China and Spain

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Speech from the Throne, read by King George at the opening of parliament today, pledged the government to attempt to restore peace in China and Spain. At the same time, the Speech promised aid and protection for needy families. King George opened his first parliament from the throne at the House of Lords with Queen Elizabeth in a chair of state at his side and accompanied by his wife, the Queen. "I pray that under the blessings of Almighty God the outcome of your deliberations will advance the happiness and well being of my people and the peace of the world."

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The King and Queen prepared this morning for their state appearance at parliament.

The King and Queen, accompanied by the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent, arrived in the state coach with outriders and an escort of household cavalry from Buckingham Palace to Westminster, the King this afternoon will read the speech from the throne in person to the two houses of parliament gathered in the House of Lords.

Without a concert, the King last year was accompanied in the coach by the Duke of Bedford, master of the horse. This year King George was with Queen Elizabeth, who will take her place beside him in the House of Lords with his wife, Queen Elizabeth, who will sit in the Lord Great Chamberlain's chair.

In the upper house the ceremony of a bread-taking precedes the speech from the throne. The King and Queen, wearing their ceremonial robes, will then enter the House of Lords. In a solid mass standing in the front of the House of Lords, the King and Queen will be surrounded by the members of the House of Lords, the House of Commons, and the House of Bishops.

At the house where the entry of the King and Queen, the lights are turned on. The King and Queen, wearing their ceremonial robes, will then enter the House of Lords. In a solid mass standing in the front of the House of Lords, the King and Queen will be surrounded by the members of the House of Lords, the House of Commons, and the House of Bishops.

The King first reads the declaration of his belief in the Protestant faith as required by the Act of Union. He then reads the declaration and then follows the speech from the throne, outlining the government's policy for the coming year.

With Spain and China troubling the outlook in the world, the members look forward to a speech from the throne which will outline the government's policy for the coming year.

Minister of Public Works Says Commission Exonerated Him

AUBURNDALE, Oct. 26.—The enquiry by the highway commission into the operation of his department was a "thoroughgoing" one, Mr. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said in an address Saturday in the Westchester hotel, a southern end of his constituency.

The minister said that the judge before whom the enquiry was conducted had several times found it necessary to re-examine with Mr. J. J. Bowen's counsel for his "incredible manner" in cross-examination of his witnesses.

Veteran Bishop Sees Onslaught Ahead On Free Speech, Assembly

New York, Oct. 26.—Francis X. McConnell, speaking at a meeting celebrating his 25 years as a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, predicted last night that the "most drastic" of a lifetime would be made against free speech in the next 10 years.

In the 25 years of his episcopate, McConnell said, he had passed "before any church in my area refused to accept the services of a pastor because of his social views, or paid any attention to the threat of outsiders against the continuance of a protest."

POLICE QUELL DISORDER IN COAST JAIL

Much Damage Done To Vancouver City Prison By Jobs

Vancouver, Oct. 26.—Extra police were called to Vancouver jail late yesterday to quell disorder which broke out among 50 unemployed men held for court arraignment on charges arising out of mass barge on the city streets.

The demonstration lasted only a few minutes but in that time the prisoners, taken into custody on charges of obstructing police, smashed ventilating shutters, plumed, and threw any movable objects against their cell walls.

A main water pipe was broken but no serious damage was done before any extensive flooding was done.

The disorders broke out a few hours after Premier Pattullo announced in Victoria he had recommended to the federal department of justice that unemployed men be sent to work camps.

PILOT DAVOUD MAKING FINAL FLIGHT NORTH

With the knowledge that one cold night or a sudden snowstorm could quickly bring winter's shutdown, Pilot Paul Davoud, of Calgary, Alberta, hopped off from Cooking Lake Thursday morning on a last flight into the north.

He carried four passengers for Goldfields and the Goldfields mail was brought here from Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, from that point was closed down due to freezing of small lakes on the route.

Pilot Davoud will be met today by Pilot North Sawie who will fly from Goldfields to Chipewyan to pick up the mail.

Passengers with Davoud are Thomas J. Laidlaw, for Chipewyan, W. G. Cross and French for McMurtry and M. Copeland for Yellowknife.

Pilot Jack Wright was reported to have made a round trip flight from Yellowknife to Fort Smith, taking advantage of mild weather that is prevailing in the Great Slave lake area. Pilot Bruce is at Fort McMurtry.

Thurston, who was given employment, only today, was rushed to hospital.

Within two hours after starting his first shift, Thurston and another man, who was clearing away the debris of a collapsed bridge, were killed when 400 tons of scrap-iron-laden mud and gravel roared down on them.

Thurston was buried in his neck but Barker, working on the opposite side of the hole, was caught only to the knees.

Workers nearby heard Barker's cries and after releasing him started the task of clearing away the debris of the collapsed bridge.

After 25 hours the men were freed, hoisted to the ground level, and taken to the hospital.

TWO MUCKERS BURIED IN SPAN SLIDE

Vancover Project Reports First Serious Mishap—Both Are Saved

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26.—A 40-foot bridge and other cable line where he had been almost completely buried 24 hours earlier by a cave-in.

Police workers using preliminary construction work on the south end of the First Narrows bridge, which will link Vancouver with the north shore of Burrard Inlet, brought Leonard Thurston from the hole with both legs badly crushed.

PARLIAMENTS CAUSES VERBAL BATTLE IN COUNCIL

MAYOR WOULD RESURRECT MONEY ISSUE

Alderman Crang Joins His Worship, But Motion Is Carried

ferred to Ald. J. W. Fry, who is continuing the majority on the Citizens' ticket.

Ald. McCreath: It stands as a truth.
Ald. Crang: It doesn't stand as a truth.

REPORT FILED
Motion to receive and file Comptroller Hodgson's report was then moved by Ald. Ogilvie and seconded by Ald. McCreath.

Ald. Ogilvie: It's a fine report... Comptroller Hodgson is to be commended for his excellent report.
Ald. Walter Cleveley: I think the report shows a definite turning point for the better in the city's affairs. Relief cuts are being made, there is an improvement in utility returns, and the returns will be better when they (the utilities) are in shape. A reduction of interest was discussed with Mr. Fortin and it was found this was no use to us whatsoever. A reduction of one per cent in the rate would have meant a saving of only $400,000 as compared to a reduction of $1,200,000 under the Fortin plan. If we the interest reduction we could not get the Fortin plan. We are going to have the 1 1/2 per cent over and over again.

MAYOR OBJECTS

Objection was made by Mayor Crang to a statement by the Comptroller in his report that "Formal Public Commissioners (for the adoption of the Fortin plan) has been prepared by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners. It is perfectly correct that the recommendation of the Public Commissioners is to adopt the bondholders' committee shortly."
"The Fortin plan has not yet been finally adopted," the mayor reminded council.

Ald. Cleveley: How are we to be governed? When this plan was discussed in the provincial house there were only three dissenting votes. We must put confidence in those who stood up and passed it.

Ald. Crang took exception to a statement by Comptroller Hodgson that: "The position was so acute (before the adoption of the Fortin plan) that the city's bankers were obliged to give notice that they were no longer able to finance recurring deficits, and that an effort must be made to live within the means of its annual levy." Ald. Crang: "A perusal of the revenue and expenditure statement... will show that the city's affairs are proceeding normally, and the expectation is that the city will finish the year within the appropriations of council."

NOT IN OPERATION

Attacking those who claimed the Fortin plan had resulted in improvement to utilities undertaken this year, Ald. Crang reminded aldermen that the plan was not yet in operation.

Ald. J. W. Fry: But we are proceeding on that assumption.
Ald. Crang: It has been said that it was only because of the plan that we could make these improvements. Ald. Crang (chairman of the civic finance committee and of the sinking fund board) said some time ago that we didn't have to wait for the Fortin plan to be adopted. There were other ways and means of financing.

Ald. Crang: I think we could have at least a reduction in interest to four per cent, perhaps three or two and a half per cent. The provincial government has passed an act fixing three per cent interest on the loan on borrowings. The city of Windsor got a better deal than we did.

Ald. McCreath: There is no parallel between Edmonton and Windsor. Windsor was bankrupt; it had no liquid assets for the bondholders. We had our utilities and they would have been sacrificed before we got what Windsor got.

TAXPAYERS SUFFER

Ald. Crang: There would have been no need for this sacrifice. Other cities are not balancing their budgets. Why should Edmonton do this at the expense of the taxpayers?... I will have something to say about this if I take part in the election campaign.

Ald. East: Mr. Hodgson's report bears out a good number of facts and before Miss Crang goes on the platform she should give it a thorough study.

Mayor Clarke: Others will also have something to say about this alleged plan.

Ald. Cleveley: Mr. Mayor, I want to ask you whether you were ever offered by any party $500,000 at four per cent.

Mayor Clarke: Yes.

Ald. Cleveley: Why was it not brought to the attention of the council?

LOWER RATE OFFERED

Mayor Clarke: The offer was made before the Fortin plan was ever dug up.

Ald. Cleveley: It was offered but it was not in the interests of the city nor the utilities.

Comptroller Hodgson's report was then received and filed.

Don Of Olds Farmer Pleads Not Guilty In Calgary Trial

CALGARY, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Bertha Farrar testified in criminal court here yesterday that her husband had a bad temper and that when it was aroused on several occasions he had threatened to shoot both her and their son, Albert. She said she quit paying attention to the threats because he never carried them out.

Mrs. Farrar was testifying during the opening session of the son's murder trial. He is accused of killing his father at their farm home, 15 miles east of Olds, last July 28. Olds is about 30 miles north of Calgary.

PAIR QUARRELLED

She described a "row" between the son and father two years ago in which the son dislocated his right arm.

Mrs. Farrar said the quarrel which led up to the fatal shooting arose over the disappearance of $45 from the son's clothing. She said he had intended to use the money to bring his sweetheart from the old country. Other evidence showed he had been in Olds the day of the shooting making arrangements with immigration officials.

REACHED FOR RIFLE

The mother also testified that although she turned around quickly after hearing the shot fired, she did not know which one of the two reached for the rifle during the quarrel.

The case, which is being tried before Mr. Justice W. B. Brown, is being continued today. When the mother's charge was read to 24-year-old Albert Farrar he pleaded not guilty.

The average dining car on American railways weighs between 180,000 and 200,000 pounds.

Unmanned Ghost Vessel Grounds Near to Buffalo

Unmanned "ghost ship" that rode 15 miles across Lake Erie in a snow squall lay hard aground here today, 30 yards from the entrance to Buffalo harbor that was to have been its crew's original destination.

As he directed the salvage operations of the "Grey Dawn," 80-foot sailboat, owner T. D. Brown of Olean, N.Y., journeyed.

We went aground Sunday afternoon at Point Abino, on the Canadian shore," Brown said. "There were five of us who had sailed the ship down the Welland canal from Youngstown, N.Y., and we went ashore to spend the night."

Then, Brown continued, the Grey Dawn somehow worked itself free from the mud as a snow-laden gale whipped the lake.

"Before we knew what had happened, the ship was headed out into the lake and toward Buffalo, our eventual destination."

It found out that there almost every business man knew the intimate affairs of almost every other business man in the same trade, even so far as 100 miles away, he declared. "One had to be very discreet not to let some hint or remark escape from one's lips about one's interviews with other business men."

CANADA SEEN AS IMPORTANT SPOT FOR INVESTMENT

LEEDS, Yorkshire, Oct. 26.—Predicting Canada would be one of the most important places for future investment of British capital, Edgar Lee, general manager of a firm of chemical manufacturers, told a gathering of business men here how he recently completed a tour of Canada and had been impressed by the intense leaning to Great Britain by Canadians who "are ready to do whatever they can to foster trade with the mother country."

Canadian business men were keen, he said. They expected salesmen from England to be equipped with technical knowledge of their wares. "An enormous" amount of speed literature and good letters of introduction, Mr. Lee also urged a general understanding of the physical aspects of Canada.

Admiralty Chief Back From Cruise

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty, returned to London last night after the conclusion of a lengthy Mediterranean cruise.

Mr. Duff Cooper remarked the trip was a "very pleasant one," declining to discuss any details. He visited British ports throughout the Mediterranean, conferred with government leaders in Egypt and in the Middle East.

It had no sail up, but the wind was pretty strong. It was not until the next day that the crew knew where the ship lay. The coast guard reported it aground outside Buffalo harbor.

REBEL DRIVE NOT MEETING WITH SUCCESS

Heavy Italian and Moorish Troop Advance Ordered By Franco

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish frontier, Oct. 26.—The insurgent drive to split a wedge between Catalonia province and the city of Valencia to the south encountered stiff resistance yesterday along the Aragon front in northeast Spain.

Frontier reports said the line extending more than 100 miles south from the French border to the Zaragoza sector remained virtually unchanged following infantry battles near the Pyrenees and an artillery duel at Zorita, 15 miles north of Hendaye.

General Franco was reported moving heavy forces of Italian and Moroccan troops into Zaragoza province after the conquest of northwestern Spain.

France's forces opposed the Sabina drive with heavy artillery fire from the hermitage of San Pedro before the waves of Moroccan troops.

The first infantry assault was repulsed by the government troops but the second Valencia militiamen routed the insurgent column, forcing it eastward to the Oan Woods.

Parliament Is Urged to Make Peace with Edward

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Liberal News Chronicle in an article asserting the Duke and Duchess of Windsor's trips to Germany and the United States "regrettable" the Government's "regrettable" its relations with the former King.

Under the heading "The Duke and the Future," by a News Chronicle political writer, A. J. C. Cummins the newspaper said: "The deep seated belief, especially abroad, that relations between Edward and the British government are strained and even bitter is based on a misunderstanding of the particular effect on Edward's reign of the Empire is had."

The article asked the government to "get rid of the apparently futile official attitude toward the Duke, break down reluctance to breathe his name or even recognize his existence, to enable him eventually to return to England as a useful citizen and close with dignity the last chapter of the abdication."

Is it fair to YOUR WIFE to make her the Executrix of your Estate?

IF YOU could visualize your wife suddenly beset by all the worries and responsibilities of managing your business affairs, you would probably think twice before appointing her as executrix under your will.

To whom would she turn for guidance on the urgent matters that arise in connection with any estate? Who would advise her on investments—what stocks, bonds or real estate should be retained or sold? Would she be competent to settle succession duty, income tax, and other claims? Would she be exposed to the importunities of friends and relatives?

Such questions need not concern you if you adopt the wise course and appoint the National Trust as executor. You can be sure that your wife will have a friend in time of need, a fully qualified executor who will give sympathetic consideration to any suggestion she may make. And you will have the comforting knowledge that your estate will be efficiently managed and conserved by specialists of long experience and seasoned judgment.

TWO EMINENT COUNSEL WILL AID ROWELL

James Stewart, K.C., Of Halifax, and L. St. Laurent, K.C., Appointed

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—Appointment of James Stewart, K.C., of Halifax and Louis St. Laurent, K.C., of Quebec City as joint counsel to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations, was announced last night from the commission offices.

The two counsel will divide the work of the commission, not assisting the commission in its hearings across Western Canada and the other assisting in hearings in the East. They will work together in the commission's general hearings in Ottawa.

STEWART IN WEST

While no intimation has been given as to the division of assignments, it is expected Mr. Stewart will take the western trip and Mr. St. Laurent, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

At the time of the commission's appointment it was given a free hand to appoint what counsel it selected whatever advisers it considered necessary.

Mr. Stewart, 48 years old, is head of a widely-known Halifax law firm, and was for many years provincial treasurer of the Conservative party in Nova Scotia. He is president of the Acadia Sugar Refining Co., vice-president of the Mercury Paper Co., Nova Scotia Light and Power Company, and of Maritime-Nova Scotia, as well as being a director of several other corporations.

He is chairman of the board of governors of Dalhousie University. He was of counsel in the natural resources inquiry in Alberta and Saskatchewan a few years ago.

Mr. St. Laurent, 56, was president of the Canadian Bar Association, 1933-34, and a former battalion of the Quebec bar.

Spades were more than mere implements of agriculture when Reichsheer Adolf Hitler reviewed his famous labor corps at Nuremberg during the Nazi party congress. REFUGEES UNDER BULLET HAIL FROM REBELS

VALENCE, Oct. 26.—Fleeing non-combatants were machine gunned by the "Fascist" plane which destroyed an Air France auxiliary vessel during a raid on Forcella, according to a report received here last night from the Monaco Island press.

The defense ministry announced it received the following communique from its naval commander at Port Mahon, principal city of the only government-held island of the Balearics group:

"This morning an insurgent plane flying at a low altitude machine-gunned the village of Forcella and the similarly named base with incendiary bullets. A French vessel belonging to Air France in the harbor was set on fire by the bullets and was entirely destroyed. The civilian population fled to the country where it was scattered. The Air France vessel was the submarine-chaser No. 81, lent to the company to serve as a repair ship."

ownership, coal, lumber, civic owned farms, milk, bread, laundry, boot and shoe factory and woolen mill, to be financed by the use of our utilities. That would be $30,000 for each industry, a total of $180,000 to be paid to the utility board the last six months of the year.

In this letter I will deal with civic owned farms. Unemployment relief cost the city $70,000. Here is what it cost the city to take care of one family of four people, man and wife and two children, for food each week $5.50, a year $290.80; rent $11.00 a month, a year $132.00; light and water one year $24.00; eight tons of coal at $4.25, wood $12.00; $46.00; clothing for one year $72.00; total $567.00.

This family have been on relief approximately six years drawing practically the same relief each year or about $3,600.

Now I will point out what civic owned farms could do in solving the unemployment problem.

Take a township of 36,000 acres. With the 200 sections of 12,000 acres one big farm, civic owned and operated; and the 16 center sections I would cut out into small farms from one acre up to 40 acres to be rented, leased or sold to private parties as required. Work would be supplied for those living on the small farms by the civic owned farm, and in that way it would help them to pay for their homes or pay rent.

Space forbids me going into details, but all residents in the township would live in the center where there would be water and light. Modern conveniences would be provided for all at less cost than in the city. There would be a school, house, church, town hall, etc.

This is how the civic owned farm could finance this man that cost the city $3,600 in six years. Purchase him with the following livestock: four cows, at $20.00, $120.00; four turkeys at $3.00, $12.00; four roosters, $60.00; total, $192.00.

Was a chance to work on the state farm he could soon own his home and be happy and the $3,600 that the city paid in 1936. In one year, would go a long way in solving our tax problem. Think it over, G. W. BALL.

MONTAGUE NOT PRESENT, FELON INFORMS COURT

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y., Oct. 26.—A confessed prisoner in a seven-year-old $700 roadside robbery for which golfing John Montague is on trial, late yesterday declared the brawny defendant was not guilty.

William Carleton, who served a prison term for the crime, testified Montague was not a member of a quartet of robbers which Aug. 4, 1930, held up the Jay, N.Y. resort owned by Kin Hana, a Japanese.

A few hours earlier Montague's mother and another witness declared he was in Syracuse, N.Y., near 200 miles distant, two hours before the robbery.

"Was the defendant among the roadside the night of the crime?" defended counsel James Noonan queried.

"No sir," replied Carleton.

The city there would be a school, house, church, town hall, etc. This is how the civic owned farm could finance this man that cost the city $3,600 in six years. Purchase him with the following livestock: four cows, at $20.00, $120.00; four turkeys at $3.00, $12.00; four roosters, $60.00; total, $192.00.

U.S. WARNED OF PERILS OF AIR ATTACK

General Points To Vast Cruising Radius Of Modern Planes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A warning the United States may become vulnerable to attack from the air within five years came today from Major General Frank M. Andrews, chief of the general headquarters, air force.

Writing in Army Ordnance publication of the Army Ordnance section, General Andrews visualized war planes of such tremendous range and carrying capacity as to make them effective weapons against the United States.

Against this threat, he said, private planes and sail-aircraft gun must be regarded as inadequate.

"Bombing planes are the chief means of meeting this air threat by destroying the bases of the enemy planes, either ashore, or on aircraft carriers."

It follows, Andrews said, that the "first mission of our air force will be to deny to the enemy, through independent air operations, any suitable base, floating or grounded, from which he might operate. It is to that end that we are developing our bombing force, our fighters and training our personnel."

Praising the army's new "Flying Fortress" type of bomber as a "very flexible and multi-purpose" long-range craft could reinforce Alaska, Hawaii and Panama by air from the United States as well as "deny the enemy the use of any base he might attempt to seize."

COLLIERY FIRE THROWS 500 OUT OF JOBS

Serious Blaze Sweeps the Crow's Nest Mine Just As Dispute Ends

MICHEL, B.C., Oct. 26.—Five hundred men were thrown out of work—possibly for as long as six months or a year—when a fierce fire spread through the surface workings of the Crow's Nest Pass coal company here and destroyed an estimated between $250,000 and $300,000 yesterday.

An accurate statement of the loss was not immediately available as company officials conferred over future plans.

TRAIN DELAYED
The fire swept uncontested through two tunnels, two well-washing plants, an air-cleaning plant, and a large black bin. Falling timbers delayed the westbound Canadian Pacific Railway train for five and a half hours.

During recent months the property yielded nearly 40,000 tons of coal monthly and 6,000 tons of coke. It was only yesterday that a mass meeting of Michel miners accepted settlement of a dispute with the company over the shutting down of one Michel mine, temporarily throwing some men out of employment.

The miners conducted equitable proceedings from which the Michel miners would be inaugurated by the company, absorbing the union organizations and training our personnel.

Curious World

THE BEST YEARS OF A MAN'S LIFE, FOR SPORTS, ARE BETWEEN THE AGES OF TWENTY-FIVE AND THIRTY.

Dr. H. C. Lehman of Ohio University, in analyzing the ages of sports champions, discovered that the best age for baseball is 28. Amateur golf champions are from 28 to 35—professionals, between 30 and 34. Automobile speed kings reach their height at ages from 25 to 30.
